CONFEDERATE DEAD.

The graves of the Confederate dead buried at Oakwoods Cemetery are, by governmental authority, placed under the control of the said Ex-Confederate Association; and that body has, by enactment, authorized and empowered Comrade Jno. C. Underwood to raise funds for the purpose of erecting a monument in honor of their memory, and with which to take proper care of the special burial grounds assigned to its charge; and the said Jno. C. Underwood, having been appointed and commissioned Major-General to command the Division of the "United Confederate Veterans" in the Northern States west of the line of the Alleghenies, is charged with the care of the Confederate dead buried at or near the sites of the prison camps Morton, Chase, Douglas in Oakwoods Cemetery at Chicago, Johnson's Island, Cairo, and other places within his Division District.

See transcript of official documents as follows:

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 21, 1891. }

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 22.

I. In order to properly and faithfully carry out the "Benevolent and Historical" objects of this organization, as has been requested, the General commanding deems it necessary to form two divisions in the Northern States, one east and one west of the line of the Alleghenies, each to be officered by a Major-General, who will be appointed by him upon the recommendation of the Confederate Veteran Camps in Chicago, Ill., and in New York City, to be made not later than December 15, 1891.

II. It will be the duty of these Major-Generals when appointed to organize camps and take steps to care for and assist the disabled, indigent, helpless and distressed ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors in their respective departments, and to protect their widows and orphans; also to have charge of the Confederate dead buried at Gettysburg, Fort Warren, Camps Morton, Chase, Douglas, Oakwoods Cemetery at Chicago, Johnson's Island, Cairo and all other points; to care for and have the graves of the known and unknown dead annually decorated, to preserve and protect the headstones; also to obtain and compile the names and commands of all the Confederate dead buried at every point in the North, which lists this Association will publish through the medium of its camps all over the South, so as to give relatives and friends correct information of the last resting places of these Southern heroes, their and our beloved dead, thus rescuing their names from oblivion and handing them down in history.

In this philanthropic and holy work the General commanding, and these headquarters will render all possible aid.

By order of J. B. GORDON, General Commanding.
GEO. MOORMAN, Adjutant-General and Chief of Staff.

APPEAL FOR MONUMENTAL AID.

To Former Comrades in Arms, Sympathizing Citizens of Southern States, and to Whomsoever Else it may Concern :

FRIENDS—There are over 6,000 Confederate dead buried at Oakwoods Cemetery, in the city of Chicago, Ills., of which number more than 4,300 have been registered by name, company, regiment and State; the remainder, owing to the destruction of the registers at the time of the great fire in 1871, cannot be traced further except in numbers, thereby making the probable aggregate as roundly stated above.

Under authority from the proper officers of the general government, it is the intent of the "Ex-Confederate Association" of Chicago to erect a suitable and appropriate monument over such soldier remains and otherwise care for the graves and special burial grounds within the cemetery previously named, and with that view the undersigned has been selected to raise the necessary funds for successfully carrying out the purpose.

Therefore, he appeals to all sympathizers, without regard to their locality or condition, to contribute such a sum as each can afford to bestow for the worthy purpose.

To die at any time is the hardest service a soldier can render to his people, but to die in a prison hospital far from family and friends and be buried beneath soil away from home and in a then adverse section, is the giving of life for the "lost cause," under such circumstances, as might well awaken sympathy even among the most unimpressionable. The soldiers of the Confederacy who died within the borders of Southern States have not been forgotten, and their graves are kept green and constantly cared for by loving hands; is it then not a noble charity from all, and a sectional duty from comrades and Southern people generally, to contribute as they can afford—to monument American valor and mark the hero remains of those who, almost unknown, in a hostile prison camp, ended their service to the cause in the grave?

Time has fortunately blunted the bitter feelings of hatred between the sections of the late civil war, a united country is enjoying prosperity, the people are happy, the soldiers of the Southern “battle cross” are now respected, certainly by those who crossed swords with them, and the government is anxious that the living comrades should properly mark the resting places of their dead Confederate associates and care for their graves and burial grounds!

Consequently, a donation is sought of the living to monument the dead; and, whomsoever desires should contribute according to the interest felt and substance possessed.

The undersigned contributes his services and bears the expense of travel, correspondence, etc., and guarantees that every cent subscribed to and received by him shall be expended toward the erection of the proposed monument and care of the said burial grounds. With that view he has made arrangements with “The Merchants Loan and Trust Company,” one of the wealthiest banks of the city of Chicago, to receive and retain on deposit, bearing interest, to be computed and entered up monthly, all moneys that shall be subscribed for the above referred to purpose, and to pay out such funds, only, for work actually done, on proper checks drawn by the depositor when countersigned by the Chairman of the Auditing Committee having charge of the expenditures for the proposed monument. [See deposit contract below.]

It is estimated that a monument commensurate with the possibilities of collections made and to be obtained, and of such magnitude as will do credit to the cause, will cost, together with the expense of preparing the ground, etc., from twelve to fifteen thousand dollars, of which amount fifteen hundred dollars has already been collected and is held on deposit by the Treasurer of the Association [this money is the proceeds of a lecture by Gen. J. B. Gordon] and over two thousand dollars in addition, conditionally subscribed. It is therefore necessary to raise at least ten thousand dollars, and so soon as that shall be assured steps will be taken to have the monument made of durable granite, after an appropriate design, and erected in time for unveiling, during the period of the World’s Columbian Exposition in 1893.

All donations should be accompanied with a roster of the donors, giving amounts subscribed by each opposite the proper name; and, all subscriptions (where it is possible), should be paid by check, draft or money order, made payable to the said "Merchants Loan and Trust Company," and be forwarded to the undersigned at Division Headquarters in the Exchange Building, Chicago, Ills.

Trusting that this appeal for co-operative aid will receive the support that its merits deserve, I have the honor to remain

Very truly and sincerely, JNO. C. UNDERWOOD,

Major-General, Commanding.

P. S.—It is also proposed to raise funds by limited subscription, with which to care for the Confederate dead buried at other places within the territory comprising the Division District.
